Voters to decide on parks

Referendum is Saturday

Antioch voters will decide Saturday whether or not to create a park district combining the village and most of the township.

Two polling places will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Residents living in the village, or in the township east of the Soo Line tracks, will vote at the Scout House on Main St.

Those living in the township west of the Soo Line will cast their ballots at Emmons School.

PRESENTLY, THE COMMUNITY'S playground and recreation activities are mostly under the jurisdiction of the village park commission.

Members of the commission say they can't expand their programs without the help of township residents.

At a recent township meeting commissioner Bruce Bartosz told the gathering that creation of a park district would cost about $32 a year in taxes on a home with an assessed valuation of $10,000. That would be a home worth about $30,000.

"Right now, more than 50 percent of the people participating in the village parks and recreation program are residents of the township," Bartosz said. Also, he said, four of the present members of the village park

Walsh resigns as trustee

Irv Walsh, a village trustee for the last 15 years, resigned that post Monday for reasons of health.

At the village board meeting, Walsh submitted a letter to Mayor Michael J. Haley, which said:

"To follow my doctor's advice, I am to relax and rest more than I have been doing and, because of this, I find it necessary to resign."

MAYOR HALEY APPOINTED former trustee Bill Seemann to replace Walsh for the remaining year of his term. The board approved Seemann's appointment.

Miller will be new chief of police

Assistant Police Chief Charles H. (Chuck) Miller will become the new chief of the department on May 1, after John J. Wells retires at the end of this month.

Mayor Michael J. Haley mentioned that to the Antioch News after Monday night's village board meeting.

The village trustees officially accepted Chief Wells' resignation. Wells had announced his plans to resign the previous Monday.

THE MAYOR, OTHER village officials and friends of Chief Wells surprised him last week with a party at the Moose Lodge. A capacity crowd of 150 attended to honor the chief.

Wells said he was taken completely by surprise. Haley had told him that the two of them were going out that evening to speak to a group of school children.

Pictures of the party for Chief Wells appear in today's paper.

ANTIOCH FIREMEN RUSHED to a truck cargo fire last Saturday on Rte. 59, a mile south of Rte. 173. Damage was reported at about $1,300 to the truck and furniture that was ignited by a cigarette apparently flipped from another car. The driver of the truck, Frank, Beto of Forest Park, was unaware of the fire until his vehicle, which was carrying furniture, was stopped by the fire department truck. Fire Chief Charles Maplethorpe said an Antioch fireman spotted the fire and telephoned the station to send out a truck in pursuit of the burning vehicle. (Photo by Paul Maplethorpe)

Bears announce lineup for basketball game

At least eight members of the Chicago Bears football team will be here to play basketball Friday night.

In a game that should provide as much fun as athletic ability, the Bears will be opposed by a team of Antioch businessmen.

A spokesman for the Bears, who are playing exhibition basketball games throughout the area, said the following eight athletes are scheduled to be in Antioch for the 8 p.m. game at the high school gymnasium:

Quarterback Bob Avellini, defensive tackle Jim Osborne, tackle Dennis Lick (6-3 and 271 pounds), cornerback Virgil Livers, running back Roland Harper, wide receiver Bo Rather, linebacker Jerry Muckensturm and linebacker Tom Hicks.

A COUPLE OF OTHER Bears also might be here. Walter Payton is questionable. He appeared for the first three minutes of a game in North Chicago recently but then, according to the Waukegan News-Sun, took a shower and departed.

Regardless, the players coming here are expected to attract a lot of sports fans to the high school gym. The doors will open at 7:30 p.m. and tickets will cost $3.50. Tickets also can be purchased in advance at many outlets around town. The ticket outlets appear in an advertisement elsewhere in today's paper.

The game is being sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

THE ANTIOCH TEAM, which has been practicing for three weeks, should be almost as much of an attraction as the Bears. It is coached by Don Morris and includes Rich Higgins, Bill Georgeson, Glenn Hendrickson, Brad Ipsen, Bill Nauman, Mayor Mike Haley, Jim Fields, Pat Ryan, Chuck Miller, Al Anderson, Tim Osmond, Dennis Volling, Tom Kelly, Harold Knutsen, Lou Korom, LaVerne Woods, Frank Morici, Bill Seemann, Steve Miklautsch and Donald Zeman.

A special treat for the fans is the fact that Bob Diemer has agreed to be the announcer. (He also has been practicing with the team and might make an appearance, especially for a special shot he takes after climbing up Volling's back.)

HALFTIME ENTERTAINMENT will be provided by Kim Kalla's Studio of Dance.

Kim said about 12 of her students will participate, giving performances in tumbling and disco dancing.

The boys and girls range in age from 4 to 18.

ACCORDING TO THE spokesman for the Bears, Chicago Cubs and Bears' souvenirs will be sold after the game, suitable for autographing.

Water improvement progress is topic of Apr. 26 event

By CHARLES P. RAYMAN

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club will receive an update report on the progress of water improvement efforts of the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Commission from William E. Brook, chairman at the club's regular meeting on Wednesday, Apr. 26, at 8 p.m.

It is expected that other members of the commission, including Jerry Murphy, executive director, will also be present to respond to questions.

MR. BROOK, WHO HAS been serving as chairman for almost four years, has been assisted by several legislators in the commission's program of seeking state and federal approval of a clean-up plan for the lakes, pressing for necessary appropriations and development of suitable spoil disposal sites.

Despite numerous setbacks in the form of vetoes by ex-Gov. Dan Walker, the commission and its supporters have pressed ahead and a small initial dredging project was initiated in Grass Lake in the past year.

Area residents, recognizing the need for saving the lakes, have cooperated by offering land for receiving spoil, providing access routes and otherwise assisting in the commission's efforts.

In 1975, the Conservation Club offered testimony supporting the commission at its meeting in Fox Lake. In attendance were State Sen. Karl Berning, R-Deerfield; State Rep. Donald Deuster; Lake County board member Harry Robin and 54 other persons who expressed their sentiments concerning the commission's proposed plan to save the Chain O'Lakes for future generations.

IN MARCH OF this year, Brook and Murphy received help from Congressman Robert McClory, resulting in a trip to Washington for a hearing before the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

In December of 1977 the commission's request for a federal permit allowing dredging in channels of the Chain was denied, so a state-approved appropriation of $930,000 would have been lost for the second year in a row, and urgent action was needed promptly.

Following extended hearings, the EPA did not officially agree to the commission's proposals, but a general consensus of those present was that probably some sort of compromise was possible.

The Apr. 26 meeting is open to the public. The location is Conservation Club headquarters, 2½ miles west of Antioch, just south of Route 173.

Wants drinking age restored to 21

State Representative Donald E. Deuster (R. Mundelein) has introduced legislation to restore the drinking age in Illinois to 21 years of age for all alcoholic beverages as it was prior to 1973.

Deuster said:

"Ever since the 1973 amendment which lowered the Illinois drinking age from 21 to 19 for beer and wine only, drinking among teenagers has increased drastically, and the growing number of young people who are injured and killed in highway accidents involving the consumption of alcohol is truly alarming."

Deuster said that "the 1973 amendment allowing 19 and 20 year olds to drink beer and wine has also caused serious problems to creep into the social life of our high school students. Drinking has contributed to the rapid rise in teenage vandalism."

Deuster also believes the present Illinois law is morally confusing.

"Who can really lecture to a 19 year old that beer is right, but a whiskey sour is wrong?" he asked.

Although some argue that lowering the voting age to 18 necessarily means that young persons should be mature enough to handle the drinking of alcoholic beverages, Deuster disagrees: "Voting, drinking, serving in the military, and holding public office are different activities requiring variations in physical and mental maturity."

THE ILLINOIS HOUSE rules committee gave its endorsement of the proposed Nazi march in Skokie by refusing to declare as an "emergency" matter two bills that would delay the march.

At least that's what the bills' sponsor, State Representative Cal Skinner Jr. (R-McHenry County) thinks.

Both proposals would amend the Illinois Public Demonstrations Law. The first would prohibit the issuance of a parade permit to any group for a parade in furtherance of a conspiracy to interfere with the civil rights of others.

The second bill is law in Great Britain. It would prohibit parades and demonstrations by groups organized, or which arouse reasonable apprehensions that they are organized, for the purpose of using or displaying physical force in promoting any political object. It also provides that the use of symbols having historic associations with political violence or the use of quasi-military uniforms is evidence of such purpose of organization. It further provides for consideration of the racial or ethnic character of the community in determining "reasonable apprehension."

Oh well, our state insect is the monarch butterfly

By JERRY PFARR

Michael J. Bakalis is accusing Jim Thompson of spending too much money on luxury foods and large amounts of expensive liquor.

For the 82 percent of you who didn't bother to vote in the primary election, perhaps we should explain that Thompson is our Republican governor and Bakalis is the Democrat who wants Thompson's job.

Bakalis says that many thousands of dollars of state tax money is being used by Thompson and his wife to live "high on the hog," buying shrimp, crab meat and lobster, and that "Big Jim" entertains "in regal splendor" at the state mansion in Springfield.

NOT ONLY THAT, SAYS Bakalis, but Thompson also made airplane trips to the Kentucky Derby and to a Chicago Bears game in Texas.

"I don't think anyone feels our governor should live like Louis XIV," said Bakalis.

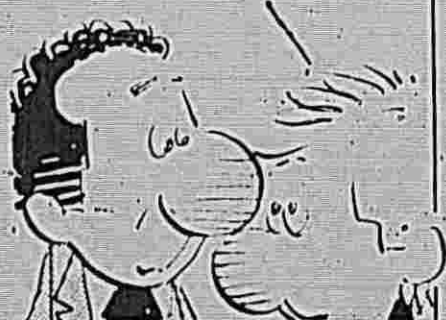

Naturally, the Antioch News has an informant who works in the state mansion, so we called our friend and asked for the inside story.

"Does Governor Thompson really live extravagantly like Louis XIV, who was the king of France around 1700?"

"Not so loud," whispered our informant. "If he knows I'm talking to the press he'll throw me back in the dungeon."

"BUT, BIG JIM does parade around the mansion like a monarch," revealed our friend. "I mean, after all, the velvet red robe and the jeweled crown... it's a little too much."

"Right now he's planning a coronation and the queen, I mean the governor's wife, is at a furniture store ordering a throne."

We interrupted:

"Louis XIV was king for 68 years. Do you think Thompson hopes to be governor that long?"

"Only if he doesn't become our President. If he can't make it to the White House, Illinois might secede from the union. Just like Louis XIV, I think he's planning to build his own navy. I hear he already has a commitment from the fleet at Blarney Island."

"WHAT ABOUT THOSE airplane trips Bakalis is complaining of?" we asked.

"Don't end your sentences with prepositions," whispered our friend. "But I think Big Jim is flying around the country to get the feel of having his own air force."

"I think he went to Kentucky to buy the best possible horses for his cavalry. And maybe he was in Texas to line up the Dallas Cowboy cheerleaders as his personal dancing girls. He heard they were better than the Honey Bears."

"Gosh," we said, "it does sound as if the governor is living lavishly. What does he think he is, a union leader? Maybe Bakalis is right."

Our informant was quick to answer:

"Would a Democrat lie?"

Features of the county democracy convention held at Waukegan Saturday were the endorsement of William Jennings Bryan for president, a strong speech made by George Lynch of Libertyville in favor of Nicholas Johnson of Minnesota for the presidency, and a hot address in favor of local option by J.C. James, Jr., of Antioch.

Philip Zaeger was given a $100 fine and ten seconds to get out of Waukegan Saturday morning, just because he has more than ordinary intelligence and invented what appears to be a new confidence game.

Three justices of the peace flipped coins on Saturday afternoon, for the privilege of uniting in marriage James Henry Huntoon and Mary Elizabeth Maher, both actors. Justice Runyard of Waukegan and Justice Churchill of Grayslake were both in range, while Justice Orvis of Waukegan stood a little to one side. He did not at first wish to enter the competition, but the other two overpersuaded him and the three took coins out of their pockets and flipped them. Orvis was the odd man, the other two getting heads and, therefore he pronounced the mystic words that united the two vaudeville artists.

INTRODUCING THE NEW "Disco-Check Coupon Program" at the First Bank of Antioch were (from left) Dick Fitzpatrick of Transcom Financial Systems, Bonnie Litchfield of the bank, and Joan Munton of Transcom.

The First Bank of Antioch has announced its new Disco-check coupon program.

In the next few weeks, Bonnie Litchfield, marketing officer of First Bank, and Dick Fitzpatrick and Joan Munton, representatives of Transcom Financial Systems, will be calling on area merchants to explain the program in detail.

"Disco-check coupon books will be distributed exclusively at First Bank of Antioch to checking account customers for a small monthly fee," Mr. Woods said. "The value of the book will be approximately $100 with a variety of merchandise discounts offered."

"Watch for more information on this new program that will help save you dollars and bring your business to Antioch," he said.

Driver burns to death after car hits tree

A 22-year-old Antioch man burned to death in his car after it crashed into a tree early Monday morning.

Alan Lloyd Stieber, of 24137 W. Beach Grove Rd., reportedly was driving home from work at 4:10 a.m. when his car left the road on a slight curve near Dooley's campground on Rock Lake Rd., just north of Antioch in Kenosha county.

Kenosha county sheriff's deputies said Stieber's car traveled about 175 feet in a ditch before hitting a large tree. The car caught fire and, deputies said, Stieber was burned beyond recognition. The coroner had to go through his dental charts to make positive identification, deputies said.

THE OFFICERS SAID they understood Stieber worked at a bowling establishment in Lake Geneva.

Stieber was born Nov. 25, 1955 in Kenosha and has lived in Kenosha County and Lake County all of his life.

He was a member of the Salem United Methodist Church and attended grade school in Salem. He graduated from Salem Central High School in 1973 and had attended Parkside University in Kenosha.

He had worked at American Motors in Kenosha and recently had worked for the Kenosha county parks.

Survivors are his parents, Harold and Elma Stieber of Chicago; his foster parents, Melvin and Irene Cress of Volts Lake, Wis.; one brother and two sisters.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday (tomorrow) at the Strang Funeral Home, 1055 Main St., Antioch, with Rev. Merlin Hoeft of Salem officiating. Interment will be in Liberty Cemetery, Trevor. Friends may call at the funeral home from 4 till 9 p.m. today (Wednesday).

Dinner planned for 'Hub' Stern

Herbert L. "Hub" Stern, who served as chairman of the Lake County Democrats central committee for 10 years, will be honored Friday, Apr. 28, at a dinner at the Ramada Inn in Highwood.

The testimonial will serve as the annual spring fund-raiser to benefit the Lake County Democratic Party, but the present county chairman, John Matijevich, said he expects Democrats, independents "and even Republicans" to attend as a tribute to Stern's active leadership in Lake County.

JAMES LUMBER, FORMER president of the College of Lake County and an Antioch attorney, and Ron Orner, a Chicago attorney from Highland Park, are serving as co-chairmen of the Stern testimonial.

Lumber, who will also serve as toastmaster for the event, said "Hub patiently plodded at a time when Democrats were few and far between in Lake County, and his hard work has brought quality representation in government."

Lumber said program plans have not been finalized but that "a short skit about Hub will be put on by County Clerk Grace Mary Stern and Eunice Tobin, who have teamed up as a comedy duo at many civic and political events."

Tickets can be purchased by calling at Democratic headquarters, 244-2870, 11 South County St., in Waukegan. Tickets are $25 per person.

Friends surprise Chief Jack Wells

Antioch's chief of police, Jack Wells, has announced he is resigning at the end of April. So, unknown to the chief, 150 of his friends were waiting for him at the Moose Lodge one evening last week when the chief was taken there by Mayor Mike Haley. The party took him completely by surprise, Chief Wells said. He received a plaque from the village and on it was mounted his chief's badge which, also unknown to Jack, was "stolen" from him before the party. From left: Scotty Lowe, foreman of the public works department; Mayor Haley, Chief Wells and Irv Walsh, village trustee.

Wells has had impressive police career

Chief Jack Wells, who will be resigning from police work Apr. 30, has had a distinguished 28-year career in the law and order field.

Wells was appointed Antioch's police chief on May 31, 1972.

During the six years he has served as chief, he reorganized the Antioch department and expanded the personnel to 11 full-time policemen and five dispatchers.

A former state police sergeant, Wells is the father of five children - three boys and two girls.

Wells spent 22 years with the Illinois State Police, serving in plainclothes and in uniform. He joined the state police in May, 1950.

During his state police career, he was cited by the Illinois American Legion for the single-handed apprehension of four armed gunmen at Channel Lake, near Antioch in September of 1966.

The men were wanted in connection with a robbery at Twin Lakes, Wis. The Legion honored him with a medal of valor.

In 1967, Wells was awarded the Illinois State Police Superintendent's commendation medal in recognition of outstanding service.

During the Waukegan police strike eight years ago, Wells was a sergeant in charge of a special unit of state policemen assigned by former Gov. Richard Ogilvie to provide police protection during the dispute and until the new contingent could be appointed and trained for assignments.

Wells said the dinner in his honor Tuesday "came as a complete surprise to him." "They kept it a good secret," he said.

ceremony. Wells was named "honorary fire chief of Antioch's western division," since he lives on the west side of the township.

You think you have troubles?
How about the fellow who couldn't get to sleep because he was being attacked by mosquitoes?

He leaped out of bed and, unable to stand the torment any longer, sprayed the little winged devils into oblivion. You can imagine his surprise when, upon opening his eyes the next morning, he discovered he had sprayed the entire bedroom with red enamel paint - not insecticide.

THAT IS JUST ONE of the "odd claims" filed with a national insurance company last year. A publicity writer for the company, amazed at the predicaments some folks find themselves in, also passed along these stories to newspapers throughout the country:

An Alabama driver happened upon a two-car accident being investigated by police. Advised to back up by the officer on duty, the driver shifted into reverse and proceeded around the block. No problem here, except that he made the trip backwards, at 50 mph, smashing into two parked cars in the process. His defense: "I just did what the policeman said."

IN OTHER INCIDENTS, one member of an apparently very happy couple loaned her car to the other lovebird in the early fall, with the understanding that he'd drive it cross-country and meet her soon for the nuptials.

It took the poor lady several months to reach the conclusion that her fiancé had gone west with the car, apparently forgetting about the wedding. She filed a stolen car claim.

A GAMBLING ENTHUSIAST headed for a racetrack in the East and was quite successful. He had the presence of mind to quickly conceal the winnings in his trousers. He then apparently got nervous, lit up a cigarette, and proceeded to set his pants on fire, destroying the cash, the breeches and, no doubt, his entire afternoon.

Then there's the case of the poor lady from New Jersey who had to explain how she was hit in the head by a toilet seat after walking under it. She entered a variety store only to be beamed by the seat which fell from an overhead display.

GENE AND EILEEN ZANNINI (right) receive a plaque from the village of Antioch, presented by Mayor Mike Haley, for the couple's contributions to the community. The Zanninis were honored as Antioch's VIPs for 1978. The 10th annual dinner attracted nearly 500 people to St. Peter's social center.

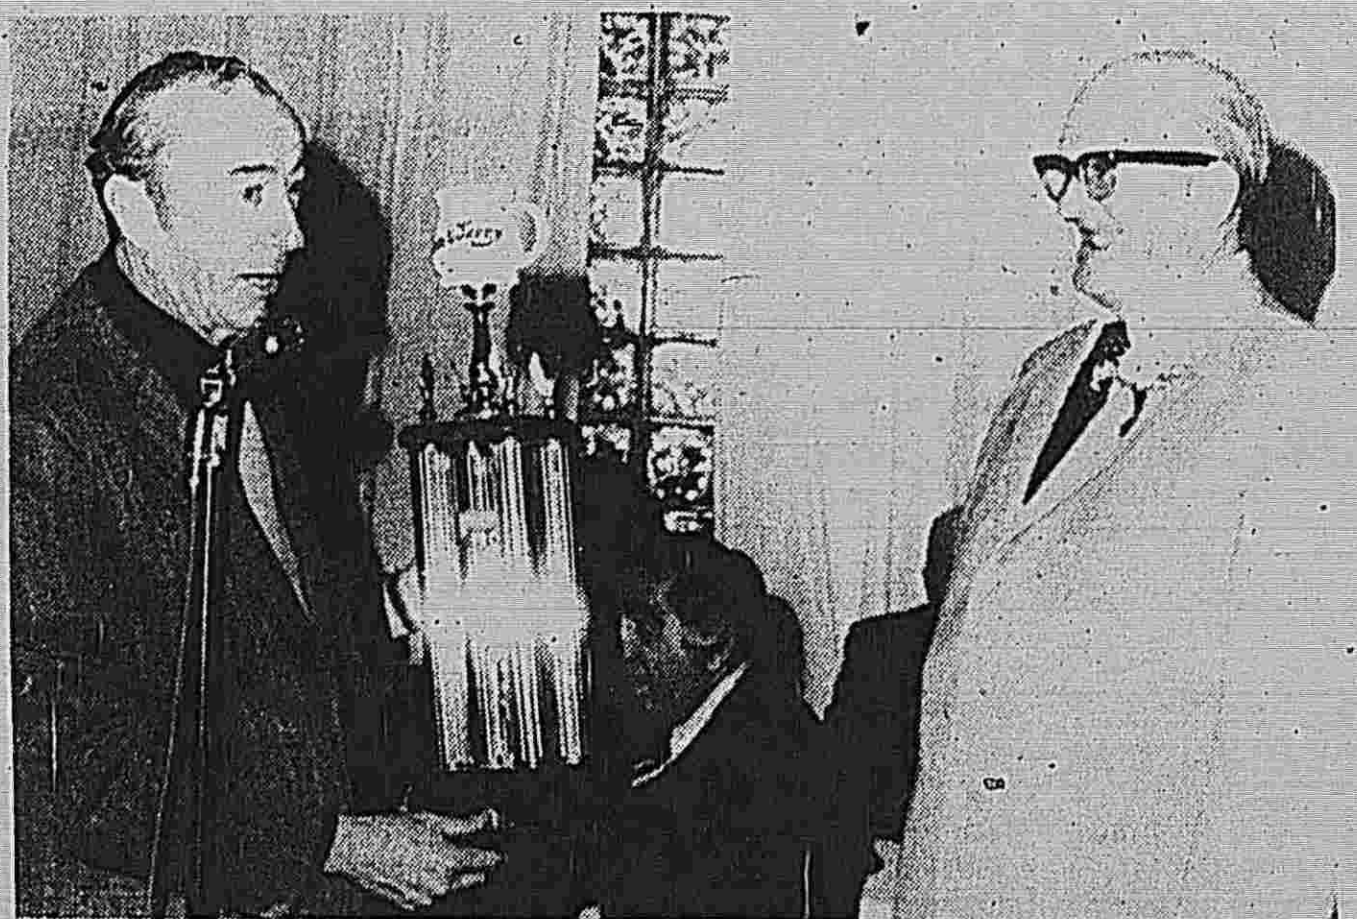

Antioch honors its 1978 VIPs

Eileen Zannini receives a gift from St. Peter's pastor, Father Francis Johnson. Seated behind them is Richard F. Kennedy, publisher of the Waukegan News-Sun. Mr. Kennedy, a friend of the Zanninis, was one of the guest speakers.

The former mayor of Waukegan, Robert Sabonjian, was an entertaining guest speaker when his friends, Gene and Eileen Zannini, were honored here last Saturday. Sabonjian, who was defeated for re-election last year, smiled and told the audience: "I'm not so sure Waukegan would vote the same way if they could do it over." He also gave his famous impression of the late Chicago mayor, Richard Daley.

Police Chief Jack Wells told the crowd at St. Peter's that Gene Zannini is famous for his eggnogs at Christmas. So he presented Gene with a trophy topped by an eggnog cup. The chief also, generously, invited the nearly 500 people who attended the VIP dinner to drop in at Zannini's house next Christmas morning for eggnogs.

Gene Zannini admires the frying pan presented to him by Bill Brook, master of ceremonies for the VIP dinner. Mr. Brook praised Zannini for being Antioch's best "panhandler." When there are tickets to sell, or prizes to gather for a community event, Gene goes out and does the job, Mr. Brook pointed out.

Walsh resigns as trustee

country and the people are just as nice. I thank the people of Antioch for electing me and letting me serve them for as long as I have. I am sorry that I find it necessary to leave."

As she read Walsh's letter, tears came to the eyes of Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz. There were other eyes in the room that weren't dry either.

WALSH'S RESIGNATION will become effective May 1. Mayor Haley thanked Walsh, on behalf of the people of Antioch, for the years he has served the community. He also thanked Irv's family for allowing him to spend the many hours it took to serve the village board for 15 years. "As mayor," Haley said, "I will continue to seek your advice, Irv, on matters important to the village."

WALSH HAS BEEN elected to four terms as a village trustee. He also has been a member of Antioch's volunteer fire department for more than 30 years.

He has been employed at Rittenhouse & Embree Lumber Co. and has worked for that firm, formerly Antioch Lumber, since 1938. Irv is a lifelong resident of Antioch.

MR. SEEMANN HAS BEEN a teacher at Antioch High School for the past 20 years. He has a master's degree from Western Illinois University.

A former president of the Antioch Lions Club, he served as a village trustee from 1973 to 1977. He was chairman of the village's sewer and water committee.

He also was chairman of the village parks and playgrounds committee and, along with the park commission, was instrumental in developing recreational activities for the community.

At the high school, Mr. Seemann coached the varsity baseball team before turning the job over to Tom Baba last year.

Mover Of The Year

Walter Payton, the 1977 NFL rushing champion, holds the "Mover of the Year" trophy presented annually by Imperial Van Lines. Payton rushed for 1,852 yards.

Imperial also donated $2,500 to the United Way of America in Payton's name. The NFL is associated with the charity in a public service program.

Upon accepting the trophy, Payton said, "I am very proud to be the recipient of this award but I feel even better about the contribution to the United Way because it will help people in need."

In only his third season as a pro, the Bears' super running back came within 152 yards of breaking O. J. Simpson's single-season rushing record of 2,003 yards. He did, however, break O. J.'s single game rushing record by two yards when he gained 275 yards in a game against the Minnesota Vikings.

The 1976 winner of the Imperial Van Lines "Mover of the Year" trophy was O. J. Simpson.

Park District referendum

commission live outside the village, in the township. The boundaries for the referendum will include all of the township except for a small portion of Lotus Woods and that portion of the township which is "in Fox Lake village or Fox Lake's influence zone."

EIGHT PERSONS HAVE taken out petitions to serve as commissioners in the event voters approve the park district.

They are Bartosz, Kenneth W. Longardner, Eunice Mueller, Gordon K. Volling, Marcia A. Starcevic, Dale W. Frasch, Clifton H. Houghton and Richard Harland.

WHEN VOTERS GO TO the polls for the referendum, they also will be asked to select five of those eight to serve as commissioners.

Five already are members of the village park commission. Houghton is chairman and Bartosz, Longardner, Mrs. Mueller and Mrs. Starcevic are members.

VILLAGE OFFICIALS FEEL they need township financial support in order to serve the entire community. Sue Koppa, village parks and recreation coordinator, said the situation now is "mainly an athletic program for grade school students." She also mentioned that the village has inadequate space for programs and storage, lacks a community center, lacks adequate transportation, and has limited senior citizen programs.

MRS. KOPPA AND Houghton have said that a park district involving the township as well as the village could broaden programming for all ages, acquire fast-disappearing land for recreational activities and enhance property values.

Houghton proposed the idea of a park district at a township meeting last year and the township officials said they would support it.

The village board and the Chamber of Commerce have also gone on record encouraging voters to say "yes" to the plan.

"OUR PARK PROGRAM now services the village, the township and surrounding area, and is now totally funded by the village," Mrs. Koppa said. "We are now to the point where we must eliminate persons, other than village residents, for programming due to inadequate space and staffing."

"As an area park district, more money would be available to expand present programs," she added.

Mrs. Koppa pointed out that a park district is needed in order for the community to become eligible for certain federal funds.

Signs of the times

As predicted, Antioch is growing. One of the clues are the many small shopping centers springing up around town. At right are new stores being built in Hickory Commons, on Rte. 173 near the new township hall.

Other new stores are being built or planned at Bernie's Corners, Harbor Ridge (formerly Antioch Country Club) and downtown, in the mall being constructed by John Teresi and Ray Scarpelli. Also, A.A. Tsarpalas of Glenview is building new stores just west of McDonald's on Orchard St.

Remember that local landmark, Sorensen's Bait Shop? It's gone and in its place, at routes 59 and 173, is a sign that says a new shopping center will be opening there next year.

A recreational facility which should interest players of that new fad, racquetball, is planned just south of the village on Hy. 83. That's the Gilded Cage at the right. Construction of the racquetball club hasn't begun yet.

Woodcarving show scheduled Apr. 29.

Hopes for a major woodcarving show in Antioch will become a reality Saturday, Apr. 29, when the Chain O'Lakes Woodchippers host the Northeastern Illinois woodcarving exhibit.

The show will be held in the community room of the First Bank of Antioch, 485 Lake St.

"Because this will be the first major woodcarving show in Antioch, arrangements have been made for radio and newspaper coverage," said Albert L. Dittman, spokesman for the club. "An extensive announcement of the show is also being made by direct mail correspondence with the goal of drawing several hundred visitors. Visitors will have an opportunity to purchase carvings from some of the amateur and professional carvers."

Admission will be free with no-charge parking on bank premises, Mr. Dittman said.

Nor-Mal International ready to help farmers

The "STAND-BY-7" parts emergency supply system is entering its fourth year of operation for International Harvester equipment dealers and their customers.

Nor-Mal International, Antioch's International Harvester dealer, is part of the emergency parts system. Alan Bednar, Norbert Hiller and Max Malone took over the business in March from brothers Stewart and Jim Olson.

"Today's farmer has a pyramiding need for fast parts and service. His plans to minimize equipment stoppage time in the field have become increasingly more critical," Mr. Bednar said.

"He is faced with rising costs of operation and a price squeeze on his food and fiber products. He must stay competitive with these problems," he added.

"Keeping his equipment in operation during critical field time periods is important to his farm management plan. The IH emergency parts system called "STAND-BY-7" is a proven step forward in the equipment industry," Mr. Bednar concluded.

During the rest of April and May, "STAND-BY-7" will provide emergency parts service for IH equipment users.

"STAND-BY-7" requires one phone call or IH Dealer computer message for "help." The IH computer located in Chicago services the national network of 460,000 different ag equipment parts, and locates it in a matter of seconds.

THE GRADE SCHOOL Band Parents Association received $100 from the State Bank of Antioch and $100 from the Antioch Savings & Loan last week. The money was

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

We have at least three big events coming up in Antioch this weekend and I hope to see all of you there.

Friday night, don't forget, is your chance to see at least eight of your favorite Chicago Bears perform on the basketball court. The Bears are coming here to play a team of Antioch businessmen - some who are excellent players and others who are a little over the hill.

What our team lacks in skill, it will make up in comedy. Also, we understand the Bears play in spurts, too - sometimes playing basketball with talent and other times just "funning around." Kids, as well as adults, should love it.

The Jaycees' annual Las Vegas Night will start at St. Peter's social center at 7 p.m. Saturday. That's always a terrific attraction and a lot of fun. There will be play money, games of chance, and someone will win a trip to Las Vegas. The event lasts till 1 a.m. and the Viking football program benefits, too. Be sure to see page 16 of this issue.

ONE OF MY FAVORITE song writers was Cole Porter, and his famous musical, "Anything Goes," opens Saturday night at 8:30 at the PM&L Theatre. Who will ever forget ...

"In olden days a glimpse of stocking was looked upon as something shocking ... now anything goes!" You can sing it if you want to.

DON'T FORGET, Dick Erickson's birthday is today, Apr. 19 ... so buy him a drink.

Our village clerk, Marilyn Sterbenz, has a birthday coming up Friday, the 21st, and village trustee Don Amundsen will be celebrating -- he's about 40 now -- on Sunday, Apr. 23.

THE ANNUAL "VIP" dinner was great again. St. Peter's social center was decorated in a lovely, white, Italian forum atmosphere as about 500 guests honored Gene and Eileen Zannini. Dave Bushing and Kevin Kelly, among others, did a great job tending bar.

In his response, Gene Zannini said:

"All Eileen and I have done is try to pay that greatest of insurers -- the Man Upstairs -- for all the dividends he has bestowed on our family. Antioch is a wonderful town. It knows how to give. The people here respond. Eileen and I are enjoying the good life here."

IT WAS NICE to hear from the Emory Chandlers who are now living in Bonne Terre, Missouri, since Mr. Chandler retired from teaching at Antioch High School. We hear last week's Antioch Lions Club meeting was one of that group's best ever. The Lions initiated attorney Mike Gantar, a lover of animals - especially the goats that did their thing in Helen Sterbenz' parking lot.

'Our Heroes' prepare for the Bears

The Chicago Bears will be at Antioch High School Friday night, 8 o'clock, to play a team representing the local Chamber of Commerce. Since some of the fine Antioch athletes haven't been working out as much as the Bears in recent years, Coach Don Morris is relying on bench strength. In other words, Antioch will use about 20 players, sending out five at a time for short bursts of speed. Some of Antioch's bench strength rested during a recent practice. From left: Frank Morici, Pat Ryan, Chuck Miller and Bill Georgeson.

One of Antioch's secret weapons against the Bears is a little trick that makes Bob Diemer about 9 feet tall. He jumps up on Dennis Volling's back and stuffs the ball through the net. Al Anderson (right) is there for the rebound just in case Diemer misses from inches away.

The Antioch team is bound to have a good "floor game" when Brad Ipsen is in the lineup. Ipsen told the photographer he didn't fall ... he was just inspecting the court to make sure the Bears won't have to play on artificial turf. Tickets for Friday night's game are being sold in advance, for $3, and will be available at the door between 7:30 and 8 p.m. Friday for $3.50.

Dennis Volling's "magical" four-handed rebounding ought to baffle the Bears here Friday night. Volling refused to reveal how he manages this trick while charging to the hoop at top speed.

St. Peter's 'Pops' to perform Sunday

Sunday will be "Pop's Day" at St. Peter's school. The sixth and seventh grade boys will play basketball against teams composed of sixth and seventh grade fathers.

The eighth grade team will challenge a group of their coaches.

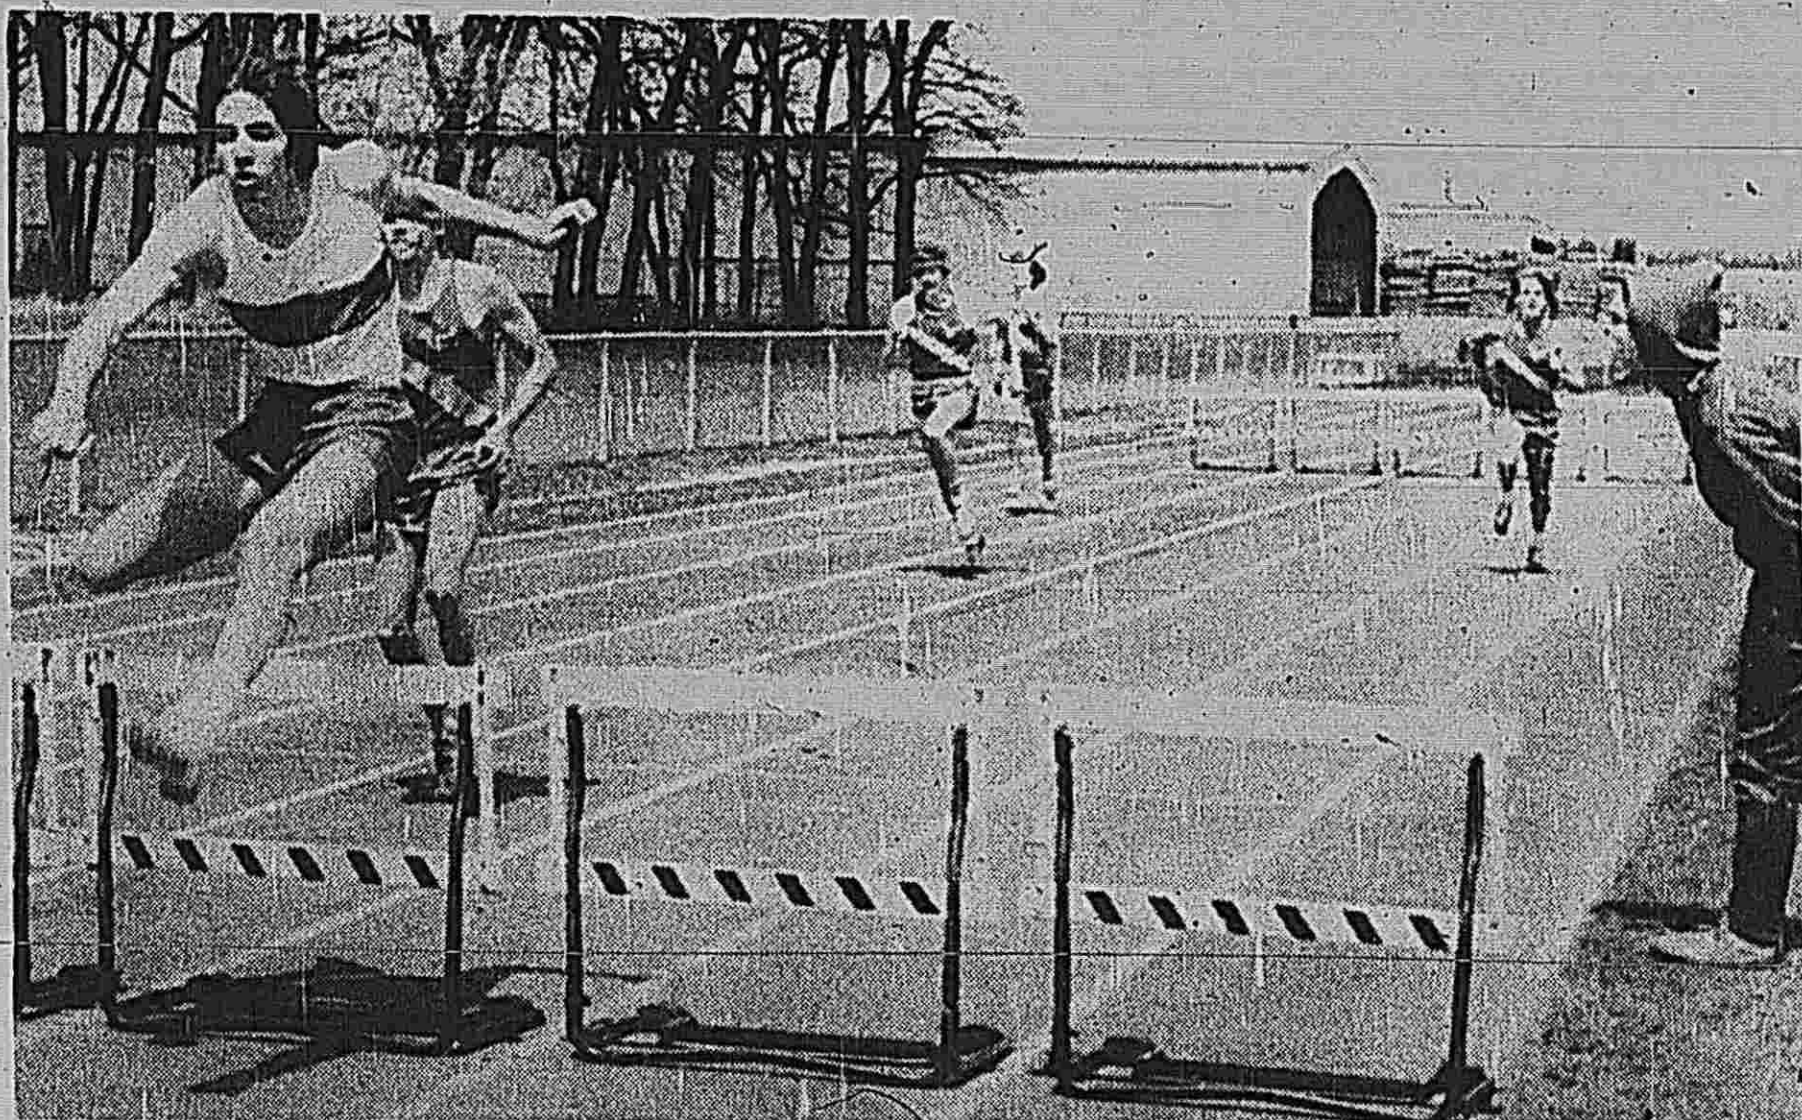

Proceeds will be used to finance a dinner the seventh graders will give for the class of '78 and their parents on June 1. Sunday's games start at 1 p.m.

"A reliable source" said some of the mothers will have their turn on the court as cheerleaders, along with the regular school cheerleaders.

"We are assured also that a doctor will be standing by with oxygen for any of the pops who find they are not in as good a shape as they thought they were," one of the moms said.

Chairmen for the event are Shirley and Bernie Gutowski. They and their committee will have refreshments available.

"Sloppy Joes and hot dogs will be sold, so mom can take a day off from the kitchen and enjoy a fun afternoon with all the family," Mrs. Gutowski said.

ANTIOCH'S BRIAN ANDREWS is more than an All-County basketball star. He also is a winner for the high school's track team.

Here, Brian easily outdistances the field in the 330-yard low hurdles in a dual meet against Lake Forest.

Sequoits win doubleheader

Last Saturday's doubleheader win over Warren made Antioch High's varsity baseball team optimistic about the rest of its season.

The Sequoits, coached by Tom Baba, won three of their first six games. This Friday, they are scheduled to play Waukegan West here at 4:30 p.m. On Saturday, they travel to Round Lake for a doubleheader beginning at 11:15 a.m.

Next Tuesday, Jacobs' Golden Eagles will be here at 4:30.

ANTIOCH BEAT WARREN 8-2 in their first game. it was tied 2-2 until the Sequoits rallied for five runs in the fifth inning.

Bob Young's double drove in Antioch's first two runs in the second inning.

In the fifth, Bill Dubek tripled, Tom Ernstmeyer doubled and junior Chuck Gleason slammed a two-run homer. Dave Gutowski, a junior, was the winning pitcher.

The second game saw Kenn Rosenbrock pitch a two-hit shutout and then beat Warren 1-0 with a home run in the eighth.

Antioch is 2-1 in conference play and Saturday's 11:15 a.m. game at Round Lake is scheduled to be broadcast by WKRS radio.

Girls softball team enjoys a 16-4 win

Antioch High's varsity girls softball team had a 2-4 record after its first six games, but coaches say the team is improving with each game.

The girls' batting attack is being led by Heide Kapischke, senior first baseman, who has a fantastic .776 average after six games.

Also hitting well is shortstop Shelly Wix, a sophomore. She participated in two double plays in a game against Warren.

The pitching is being done by Monika Lukas and Linda Hairell, a transfer from Libertyville. Both are juniors.

In a 16-4 victory over North Chicago the Antioch girls showed their real potential.

The girls will travel to Grayslake next Monday. All frosh-soph and varsity home games are played at the Upper Grade School at 4:30 p.m.

FIRST ONE IN Anyone can improve footwork

By ED COLLINS
Copley News Service

If you've ever been called an "oaf" before, maybe this will help.

You don't need fast feet to have good footwork. Although it helps, it's more important to know where and how to move.

When your opponent makes contact with the ball, you must be in a relaxed neutral position, from which you can move quickly in several directions.

What must be prevented are the too numerous occasions when you find yourself going one way while the ball goes another. This occurs less often if you understand a few general rules of strategy:

1. In a baseline rally, the ball that is hit cross-court has a better chance of going in: the net is lower and the distance for it to travel is greater.

2. It's easier to hit the ball back the same direction from where it came. (In other words, it is more difficult to return a cross-court drive down-the-line, than back cross-court.)

3. A ball hit on the rise (before the peak of its bounce) is normally hit with underspin, and tends to land shallow in the court.

Once you understand these three stratagems, you're on your way toward learning the science of anticipation (which is the prerequisite to having good footwork). Knowing this, plus the art of "sliding," will make you great.

Sliding is the tennis player's method of being noncommittal. This makes it possible for him to change directions at the last moment without getting his feet entangled.

The trick is to be moving in the direction you think the ball will go (usually crosscourt). If you cross your feet as you move, it's tough to reverse directions. So you slide: feet together, step, feet together, step, etc., etc.

Once you determine where the ball is going, you must get there quickly, position yourself so you're not too far or too close, step forward, and hit it from a balanced position.

All this is easier to do if you take short steps and a long stride into the ball. And keep your shoelaces tied.

Ed Collins' new book, "Watch The Ball, Bend Your Knees, That'll Be $20 Please!" is now available from Ibis Publishing Co. Send $5.95 to Box 4272, San Diego, Calif. 92104.

Antioch drivers star at Waukegan

On a brisk Sunday evening at Waukegan Speedway, the action on the clay track was fast and furious.

Joe Kristan of Waukegan won the opening 25-lap feature for the Interstate Racing Association (IRA) super-modifieds.

Larry Cash of Waukegan won the 12-lap hobby main event.

Chuck Ostergaard of Antioch was second in the first heat race and Jim Moulis of Antioch had the third best qualifying time.

In the 25-lap modified feature, it took Kristan just six laps before he overtook Joe Fote for the lead. The first of three stops of racing action occurred on lap 11 when Darrel Dodd spun in the homestretch and was struck by Ken Perkey and Moulis. None of the drivers received serious damage.

SATURDAY WAS THE opening night of racing at Waukegan.

Don Collins of Antioch, the 1977 Waukegan sportman champ, started his career in the late model division by winning a non-stop 25-lap feature. Collins caught Mark Warner, who had led the entire race, on lap 24 as the Antioch driver slid past on the outside coming out of a turn.

Warner held on for second with the night's fastest qualifier, John Provenzano, third and heat winner Tom Homan of Antioch fourth.

Frosh baseball team now has 6-2 record

Pitching performances by Tim Koesser and Terry Dewar gave Antioch's freshman baseball team a doubleheader sweep over the Warren high Blue Devils Saturday.

Koesser threw a 5-hitter as Antioch rolled to an 11-3 victory in the opener. Hitting stars for the Sequoits included Greg Schroeder with three RBI's, Dan Johnson with three-for-four, and Peter Weber, also three-for-four.

Dewar pitched a 6-hitter in the second game in which Antioch posted a 7-5 victory. The heart of the Sequoit batting order provided the power with Weber getting two-for-three, including a home run, and Mark Pomazak getting two-for-three and two RBI's.

The freshman squad is now 3-0 in the conference and 6-2 overall.

PERSPECTIVES

A Misquoted Verse

By DONALD COLE
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

One of the Bible's best-known verses is frequently misquoted. "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God..." (Romans 3:23). It should be admitted, of course, that no one deliberately misquotes the text; what happens is that the first word is dropped and the verse comes out "all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God."

Now it's true that "all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." As it stands, that's a concise summary of man's moral condition before God: we are sinners, and we fall short of His glory. But the apostle who said it did not intend to let it stand in isolation from other truths. In fact, his primary purpose was not to announce the fact of man's sin; he had already done that. He had something else to say - a great truth which could be missed by a reader who overlooked that first word in the text, "for."

The word "for" is a word-bridge, a connective—one of the several used in the Bible and, of course, in our everyday speech. Its purpose is to direct attention to what precedes it, or to lead on to a conclusion. In the text under consideration it directs attention to the preceding statement that "there is no difference." There is no difference, Paul wrote, "for all have sinned and come short of the glory of God."

But why did Paul say "There is no difference"? What's the connection between that statement and his sweeping condemnation of the entire human race? The answer is, to show that while nobody can save his soul on the basis of personal merit, all alike may be saved free of charge. If all have sinned and fall hopelessly short of God's requirements, everybody is in the same fix. But Paul was not thinking of universal doom; he was thinking of God's unlimited mercy which He makes available to everybody, not just a select few. There is no difference: since nobody qualifies for salvation on the basis of personal merit, everybody must be saved in the same way; that is, on the basis of Christ's merits.

That this is the thought dominating Paul's mind is clear from his use of the little sentence "there is no difference." It is a thought-bridge between two great facts: first, God's offer of acceptance to all who believe in Jesus Christ, and, second, man's sinfulness. Reverse the order and the idea is easily grasped: since all have sinned and come short of the glory of God, there is no difference in people. Consequently, God's offer of salvation through faith is extended to everyone. All have sinned, all may be saved freely, by God's grace.

That's a great promise, but it is easily missed by those who misquote Romans 3:23. It doesn't say only that "all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." Without that little connective, "for," the verse has a sound of doom. Read properly, it says that God knew all about the universal sinfulness of man, and decided to do something about it. He sent His Son to redeem lost sinners, and offers Him to all who believe the good news.
